

Contact Kevin Cordi about this workshop. This is part of the workshop:

Storytelling for Creating: Process and Product

Storytelling Prompts: Everyone can tell a story. These are fun storytelling prompts. We would like you to simply tell the first thing that comes to your head. It is called an “on your feet” ice breaker.

The Rules are simple. Have fun. Tell a story.

A person on the list will call out a prompt and choose someone to come up and share anything they can think of to share regarding the prompt. The objectives are share time and celebrate in the sharing.

The person that is chosen may at any time tell another story on the sheet if he or she desires. However, no prep time is given.

1. Tell about a time on roller or ice skates.
2. Tell about a time someone else got in trouble for something you did.
3. Share a time when you wanted to leave the dentist chair.
4. Tell about a place you always went as a kid but is not longer around.
5. Tell about the scary neighbor that no one visited.
6. Tell about the day that you won something.
7. Share a tale about a flower.
8. Share a story about messy chocolate.
9. Share a time when you stepped up to the plate.
10. Share a time when TV or cable was first brought into your home.
11. Share a homemade ice cream story.
12. What happened when the income tax check came.
13. Your first experience at going to the board.
14. When you watched Gone with the Wind, Star Wars, or Breakfast at Tiffany’s.
15. When someone strange became something else.
16. When you noticed that all eyes were on you.
17. A time when you spilled something.
18. A time when you shared a photo album.
19. A time when you laughed and could not stop.
20. A time when your car was not so reliable.
21. A time when you dreamed something and happened.
22. A time when a ghost visited you or someone you know.
23. Tell about watching the Olympics.
24. Your first stage production, watching or acting or behind the scenes
25. A time when a story answers a need
26. Tell about a friend that you had as a child and wonder where he or she is now.
27. A story about a class reunion.
28. A Sports time when you were glad you bet on this team
29. A time when you tripped up saying something
30. A time when you did not bring a watch and you simply did not care
